

DR. DOROTHY E. SMITH

Social scientific inquiry should start "...with the knower who is actually located; ... in a particular spatial and temporal site, a particular configuration of the everyday/everynight world. Inquiry is directed towards exploring and explicating what she does not know - the social relations and organization pervading her world but invisible in it." (Smith, 1992:91
"Sociology from Women's Experience: A Reaffirmation.
Sociological Theory 10:1 Spring)

Guest Lecture
by
DR. DOROTHY E. SMITH
on her thoughts about
Feminist Sociological Research and Post Modernism.

NOV 17, 1994
THURSDAY EVENING
19:00 HRS

CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY
1455 De Maisonneuve Blvd W.
H-767
(HALL BUILDING 7TH FLOOR)

Follow-up seminar (limited places) will be held on

NOV 18, 1994 FRIDAY MORNING
10:30 - 12:00 HRS
H-769
(HALL BUILDING 7TH FLOOR)

Organized by the Sociology Graduate Students' Association of Concordia University in co-operation with the Department of Sociology, and co-sponsored by the Visiting Lecturers' Committee of Concordia, the Concordia Graduate Students' Association, the Simone de Beauvoir Institute, and the McGill Centre for Research and Teaching on Women. Thank you all, and welcome.